An Obituary.

Mrs. Minnie Gibson, the wife of Mr. William S. Gibson, fell asleep in the blessed hope of the faith, at her home in Roanoke, November 20, 1893.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gregory, and was born in Martinsville, Va., June 11, 1867. She was raised in this little town and her bright and cheerful spirit together with her pleasant and genial manners won for her a number of warm friends.

When 16 years of age she made an open profession of her faith in Christ as her Savior, and united with the Episcopal Church. In her 20th year she was married to Mr. Robert Lee Milner, and on December 22, 1892, she was married the second time to Mr. William S. Gibson. She was the mother of two children, a daughter by the first, and a son by the second marriage.

Mrs. Gibson spent the last few years of her life in Roanoke, the most of which time she made her home in the West End. A point worthy of notice that will not soon be forgotten in the history of the Woodside Presbyterian Church is that it was in her dining room that the Sunday school which led to the organization of the Woodside church was first organized. She manifested great interest in this new work and for some time acted as the secretary of the school. Frequently she expressed her desire and intention to connect herself with this church.

She was sick several weeks before her death, but not considered dangerously ill until a few days before she was called to her long home. In the last few days of her life she suffered much pain, yet there were calm hours of cessation, in which she gave expression to her faith in Christ and her home in the life to come. In her last hour she had an opportunity to testify to a large congregation through the medium of a minister, who visited her, and then returning to his church made mention of her faith and its support in the great and trying hour.

The daughter, the wife, the sister and the mother, leaves a sad vacancy in the home, yet the Savior who makes no mistake takes her and to Him be praise and glory.

Protective Police Force Formed.

A meeting of the citizens living in the vicinity of Hollins was held yesterday afternoon in the Masonic Hall, and a vigilance committee, or protective police force, was organized to protect the farmers from chicken thieves. The members will take their turns in watching at night in order to see all the suspicious characters that are prowling about, and if thieves are found they may be sure of a warm reception.
